OFF THE WALL is a monthly publication. It is printed with permission of the Administration of the Saskatchewan Penitentiary and the opinions expressed are not necessarily 'SHARED' by the Administration.

It is devoted to the interests and activities of the men in the Saskatchewan Penitentiary, and it has two objectives: 1) to give us a source of information and facts, and 2) to provide a form of communication and representation for us - the cons. We would appreciate any suggestions, criticisms, cartoons, and information of value to the convict population, for our next issue.

HIGH NUMBER 5257, PAROLE 0, COUNT 524,

THE CANADIAN ESTABLISHMENT

It seems that the Solicitor General's Department has just about run out of fly by night programs to try out on Canada's prison population and now the question is; will they try something new or just continue to warehouse us?

The guards union is always charging that we have it easy! I wonder how they would like to be psychologically castrated and then placed in a program of petty rules and harrassment. How is a prisoner supposed to relate his daily routine to life in free society? This program, if you can call it that, would be good if all prisoners getting out of jail joined the army. The only drawback(major)is that a man is not eligible to join the army if he has a criminal record.

The Kingston Riot (1971) resulted in a Royal Commission headed by Senator Swackhammer who heard the prisoners complaints as well as those of the staff and then filed his report. It is unfortunate that Senator Swackhammer died shortly thereafter because so did his report. So prisoners went back to writing letters about poor prison conditions. Nothing was changed. 1976 witnessed three major riots across the nation.

Conditions are very definitely getting worse. Temporary Absences were drastically reduced because prison officials continually gave passes to sex offenders who then repeated their previous crimes. The public believes that prisoners are all alike - so the hue and outcry stopped even those with legitimate reason from obtaining passes. There are ways to reduce tensions without letting the prisoners on the street. One of the best which has been practiced in other free world countries is conjugal visits. In this way many families may be saved and other men might be able to form family bonds that will help them to make it on-the-street.

Homosexuality is not normal, even in prison. Contrary to popular belief those, involved are not a majority. But if the present trend (25 year sentences) continues, it may well become the only alternative for many men. Homosexuality is only normal to those that were homosexuals before they came to prison.

Other programs that would greatly improve the internal workings of the prisons are Work Programs, that pay Street Wages where an inmate could support himself and possibly his family as well. Also there is an urgent need for an alternative to the present system of warden's court. It is inherently corrupt, always finding in favour of the prison without due regard to processes of law. If an inmate could be helped to become responsible for his actions, he would have a great deal of a better chance of succeeding on the street as it is only through him being able to take care of himself that he will ever learn to cope in society.

But then, it may be that the public fears this transition because then they would not be called on to make such a big contribution to support the existing system that has grown to such magnitude over the past couple of decades that it is now nothing less than a monster.

Fresh Faces

Got your name from a pal. She mentioned you are editor of a joint paper. Can or do you circulate on both sides of the wall?

I am actively involved in the peace movement. You could maybe drop a line outlining what freedom of press you have - I could maybe supply some copy, at least from what is happening within the Peace Movement. I don't know if you can receive news letters or not. There are numerous groups putting out newsletters: War Resister, Peace Maker, Pacific Life Community and Yin Yang as well as others dealing with social injustice due to the Arms Race. Refusal of Government Tax in the U.S.A. and lists of those that would sooner go to jail than send money into the American War Machine. Hard to say what you can get up to but if you outline I'll try to help.

We really appreciate hearing from across Canada. It shows that someone still has an interest in us. Any material would be of interest.

Break Ranks

OFF THE WALL recently won a battle, I think! Some time ago our correspondence with a respectable newspaper reporter was cut off because the reporter wrote an article about Prince Albert Pen that appeared in the paper with an inaccuracy in it. The institution stopped exchange between us. Standard grievance procedure was launched. Refused at the local level, it was finally changed at region. We have now been permitted limited access again, mail only, so that is one small step for our side. The battle that was being waged over this type of interference was threatening to shut down our paper.

Woman

With regard to your article about female guards; I say, Why Not! Today it seems women have taken over in many areas that were previously all male. For example, bank tellers, construction workers, carpet layers, and T.V. repair. With this, goes the thought that, the day will come when we will see a complete change of roles. The best example is the men shop for food, watch the brats, do the housework, all while their women work outside the home.

Like anything else that is a major change in our prison system, the guards union is against it. If this change is to come it won't be for many years. As for a stop-gap in a homosexual environment, I can see no change. Because women are around doesn't mean that they are available. So for those in prison, it is either guys, or nothing at all! I would be very interested in what reaction your street readers have on this question.

have necessitated writing a sort of explanation with regard to the publishing policy of OFF THE WALL. I would like to believe that the average person would understand some of the basics behind a penal publication without going into any longwinded explanation but apparently, this is not the case.

Recently, OFF THE WALL has come under a lot of fire. One of the main points of contention is that the paper is too slanted. Most often the complaints originate with staff members, but in some cases we have experienced some flak from street members, who we have later learnt were either x-staff members or relatives thereof.

It is felt that we are too bias, obviously in favour of the cons. And why not? We are a CONVICT publication. There are countless publications that expound the opposite point of view and try to make us look like a bunch of vicious animals, or perverts, or degenerates, or all three! We are really nothing but people, and a fairly friendly bunch at that. The staff publication, LETS talk, and its forerunner, DISCUSSION, are also extremely slanted. They promote the virtues of security, marksmanship (intended to aim at other people if necessary) and the benefit of vicious guard dogs.

This is only fair. It is their magazine and should print what they want to read! It should be pro-staff. After all, little else is.

Read Off The Wall

Back to OFF THE WALL. People feel we are being unfair if we satirize staff. Yet in the same breath they find it 'very funny' if we make fun of convicts. The only answer I can give is, STOP SNIVELLING. If we do satirize staff it is not with the intention of belittling them. The only reason for doing so is because of the humor value. To feel offended is to try to make something that is not there.

The staff of the joint paper do their best to get by. Threats of punitive action are the order of the day. It has become so bad that we publish under the knowledge that any issue we print may be our last! Not a very easy strain to work under, more so when it is remembered that 90% of the work is volunteer! 50% of our production time is wasted thru delays and various hassles.

The main point is not to impress you, the reader, with how bad things are! If things get really rough and I need a little understanding, I can always go see a priest or psychologist. They are in the business of helping others with their problems. We are, however, trying to make a point. Quite simply, it is this. We do not set out to liable anyone! We try to stick to pretty clean wishy-washy type humor. It is inevitable that some may be offended. But prior intention is not present!

All I can say in conclusion is that if any of the lame junk that we print offends you, we are truly sorry but chances are you deserve to be offended. Try to keep a stiff upper lip, and for love's sake, take it like a man - please don't snivel. Nobody likes to listen to a sniveller. You tend to belittle yourself.

THE ULTIMATE HIGH

The Police Chiefs are at it again, sniping at the TIA program administered by the National Parole Board.

It was great fun to take a few vicious swings at prisoners being let out "to take dancing lessons, sing in a choir, attend A.A., & help to plan a wedding."

One would think that men who deal with prisoners would know more about their needs! Prisoners have a very severely curtailed life-style. They soon become unsure of the real world, and if confined too long, fearful of it!

They may long for freedom but be unable to handle it when released at the end of their sentences!

Prison authorities the universe over, have found it beneficial to allow inmates the opportunity to do the little, every-day sort of things like eating in a cafe, dancing with a girl, or going to a ball game. It is called resocialization. It means "Keeping a hold on reality."

The man who fails to resocialize is more likely to commit another crime, and be sent back to prison again. Is that what the police really want?

Quality

Presented here is a list of the pay scale used in selected American prisons. Listed is the daily Wage, showing minimum and maximum. Most joints have a grading system. They are listed from the highest to lowest maximum levels.

AVOIDING A KNOCK

PAROLE: We have said it before but we may as well say it again. They are NOT GIVING ANY MORE from P.A. The National average for Parole is about 40% of those applying. At this point in time P.A. is fluctuating between 0 - 8% of those that apply being given favorable consideration. I would think that this is very good proof that they do not intend to parole people from Maximum Security because it would be an open admission that these persons should not have been in Maximum Security in the first place!

OFF THE WALL would like to take this opportunity to extend a Special Thanks to the Record's Clerk who has made the following statistics available to us each month for the past year.

EARN$ IT

The first thing to do with regard to Money Matters is to update an error in the last issue of OFF THE WALL. Because the Accounts Division now uses a machine to determine inmate pay, AUTOMATION, overtime pay is no longer computed on a 7 DAY basis. Overtime is now paid by the hour. This works out to the benefit of the inmate as far as Canteen Money is concerned as the expense of his compulsory savings. Because the inmate is paid by the hour - NO DEDUCTION IS MADE FOR COMPULSORY. This means that all overtime goes directly to the canteen fund of the person.

Further, an Inmate that is working on a 7 DAY job is paid the same number of hours of overtime for the extra days as it would take to make a days pay. So, if the con is on grade one which is now 75¢ per day, he would receive 7½ hours overtime for a days work. This 75¢ would all go into the canteen account, rather than 55¢ toward pay and 20¢ toward compulsory savings. Here is the present OVERTIME PAY SCALE:

|---------|--------|------|-------|--------|----|----------|--------|
| Grade 1 | $ .75 | 20¢  | 55¢   | $5.50 | -  | 30 Hours | $8.50 |
| Grade 2 | .90    | 25¢  | 65¢   | 6.50   | -- | 36 Hours | 10.10  |
| Grade 3 | 1.00   | 25¢  | 75¢   | 7.50   | -  | 40 Hours | 11.50  |
| Grade 4 | 1.20   | 25¢  | 95¢   | 9.50   | -  | 48 Hours | 14.30  |

Bring in the Teamsters

Last month we reported the comments that were made about prison guard "goon squads" operating out of Quebec's infamous SDC formerly known as SCU which is the only super-max in Canada.

Mention was made of an incident where guards refused to feed prisoners unless a prisoner who had complained about mal-treatment was thrown in isolation. This startling revelation was made by the Director of SDC.

Many more revelations have been forthcoming. Prisoners are handcuffed for all movement outside of their cells. They are confined to cells for 23 hours per day, and the existing recreation facilities at the prison are being used as storerooms.

Guards were asked why they would not speak english to english-speaking prisoners and one responded, "We do not get paid for it," in english to the M.P. that asked the question.

The guards said they prefer tear gas to bodily contact with the prisoners because of the difficulty of following the order to use "no more force than is necessary" and some of the guards have found themselves fighting court battles for assaulting inmates.

'A paint stripper you idiot!'

"Instant" Winner.

A majority of Canadians feel that prison conditions are too liberal in this country, says a Gallup Poll released in Vancouver. Another question in the same poll indicated that about two-thirds of the 1,058 adults surveyed would impose additional penalties on prisoners involved in hostage taking.

Nine per cent of the national poll suggested the bringing back of capital punishment for hostage-taking but the death penalty was favored by a much higher percentage of English people than French speaking people.

It is somewhat suprising to note that the French are much more sympathetic towards prisoners than English.

AT THE SIGN

Two cons formerly from P.A. are among the 7 defendants in Vancouver following the charges that arose from the 3½ day "rampage" that occurred at New West. They are Tom Shand and Peter Labik. Also charged are John Gagnon, Richard Rye, Gary Lake, Ralph Saunders, and John Rose.

action

Miceal Pellus, serving 16 years for drug trafficking in LeClerc, has finally received recognition for his superb artistic talent that was obvious to most that have seen his paintings years ago. Long one of the outstanding contributors in the Prison Arts,

In Rome

THIEVES CAME PREPARED in Milan, Italy. They brought their own generator to provide power for lights and electric tools. The haul is reported to be more than 5 to 6 million dollars.

Growing Pains

Francis Fox announced a further speed-up in the already frantic drive to become the nation with the most prisons, per capita, in the WHOLE WORLD. He has stated that the speed-up should result in 24 more joints being completed in the next 3 years. The original plan called for the same number over 5 years.

Brilliant mathematics. A superb testament to Canada's effort to lock up any and everything. The Total cost of new construction will likely exceed ½ billion dollars and produce:

|      |             |

| 1955 | 9 prisons   |
| 1975 | 54 prisons  |
| 1979 | 73 prisons. |

I would think that it would be worth just a little money to try keep some of these men and women, half of which are in for non-violent property crimes, on the street!

Exhibition, he has finally been given a one-man showing of his works in Toronto's Kar Gallery. Pellus has complained bitterly that the prison system has thwarted him at every turn.

All expenses paid YOU LOOSE

Some more mixed blessings on the way. A new pay scale will be implemented AUGUST 1977, for those of you that plan to be around at that point in time. In some ways the system has at least one benefit - all those that have joint jobs will get more money than they are presently receiving. But there are some negative aspects to the system as well.

This system will boast the new 3-level pay scale. There will be grades 1, 2, 3, as well as basic allowance. The basic allowance will be 75¢ per day less 25¢ for compulsory savings. This will be paid to all un-employed cons and new-comers prior to their receiving a place of work. The 3 levels of pay will be $1.25, $1.65 & $2.05 of which 25¢ will go compulsory saving at each level. Total pay for two weeks will then be, $10, $14 & $18.

The hassle will come with respect to what has been termed as JOB DESCRIPTION. Each convict job will have a job description (outlining duties) as well as maximum pay parameters. Further, the system is intended to parallel 'street' employment as closely as possible which opens up a hole nest of fun things like hiring and firing guidelines, favoritism, and seniority.

The biggest draw-back of this pay system is summed up in one of the memorandum coming from Ottawa on the subject by these choice words - "to be developed at the least cost to CPS." This fancy language can be summed simply - because of the higher rate of pay, less people must be paid maximum wages than are being paid now in order to reduce the total cost of the new system. In the long run, with limits such as these, the system promises to become another NUMBER GAME instead of actually paying in relation to the work done by the individual. So each shop or department will have so many positions on each grade rather than paying each man according to his work performance.

T. ? A.? Considering the local success of this program it is hard to understand why it has become almost non-existent. During the X-mas break there were only 6 persons granted passes from here. New Year's saw only 1 person being given the privilege and needless to say, ALL 7 returned on time! See article on page 13.

There are still 48 prisoners on death rows in the state of Texas. To date, one man's "proposed" execution has already passed and he is still alive (Nov. 22, 1976) but it is not known if the present ban will continue. No one has been executed in the U.S. since 1967.

Sgt. David Odett, a six-year veteran with the Pontiac, Michigan Police Force stopped a suspicious looking hitchhiker. Odett put the hitchhiker into the back seat of his cruiser and went to retrieve a bag he saw the man throw into the bushes. The hitchhiker leaped into the front seat and drove away leaving Odett holding the bag which contained several bottles of wine and beer.

Odett fired and flattened a rear tire of the car but the man continued on his getaway. Odett then called for help on his radio.

The only other officer patrolling the township sped off to help, and as he was doing so, issued a county wide alert for the stolen cruiser. Unknown to the authorities, the hitchhiker had already abandoned the car in the Oakland University parking lot and fled on foot.

As police continued the search for the stolen car, two university policemen, patrolling in separate cars saw the OTHER Pontiac town squad car responding to the comrades S.O.S. Thinking it was the stolen cruiser the university police gave chase.

One campus policeman parked his car across the road in order to stop the speeding vehicle - and shot the left front tire as it neared the makeshift roadblock.

The car came to a halt but the second University car still in hot pursuit was unable to stop and plowed into the roadblock causing extensive damage to both cars.

The stolen police-car was recovered an hour later but the hitchhiker had fled without a trace, unfortunately leaving his drivers license, which was attached to Sgt. Odett's clipboard. A warrant has been issued for his arrest charging him with car theft.

She has repeatedly blamed the bulk of the problems that plague Canada's "maximum-security" joints on solitary confinement, however, when questioned by CP she admitted that she could see no alternative at the present time and under the present system.

The System.

A coroners Jury in Ontario has been under heavy pressure to find in favour of the police in a recent car accident. A cruiser ran broadside into a vehicle at a controlled intersection and although independent witnesses have testified that the other car had the green lite the police have brought on the heat to try to force the jury to find otherwise. The heat includes threats, both veiled and open, harrassment, and other such indignities to jury members.

"Now that's a 'no no'."

A HARD ACT TO FOLLOW

PISTOL SMUGGLING game was found out be prison staff in Jackson, Mich. Staff, 'became suspicious' when 4 different inmates turned in 4 different pistols all of which were in identical wrappings in an effort to trade the guns for parole. Instead the 4 were charged with felonies in conspiring to smuggle weapons into the 5,700-convict prison. Also arraigned was the wife of one of the prisoners. Nice try anyway!

At least you get room service here.

Counting the Cost >

Following is some trivia that may be of some interest. We would like to thank Mr. Hayes, of Canteen and Stores for his help in compiling the following information about canteen during December. Below, are listed the items available on the Special Christmas Canteen Issue, the item price, the total quantity of each item bought, and the total cost of these purchases.

FOR REAL.....

Another squeaky voice who just couldn't let his retirement pass without adding his comments to the... plathorea stated "Prisons are disgraceful!" Such was the comment of W L. Higget former commissioner of the R.C.M.P. In a speech he said that "The least we can expect from our penal system is that inmates be prevented from involvement in further criminal activity while undergoing sentence!"

People such as he who are extremely verbal, though not always equally intelligent have resulted in the recent drastic reduction in T.L.A's. They magnify the very few failures on passes in their effort to have all prisoners lose the privilege. The failure rate on TA's has never been more than 1 or 2% but the 98 or 99% success rate receives "Less" publicity than does the odd man out!

undisclosed hanky-panky in the chapel during encounter sessions.

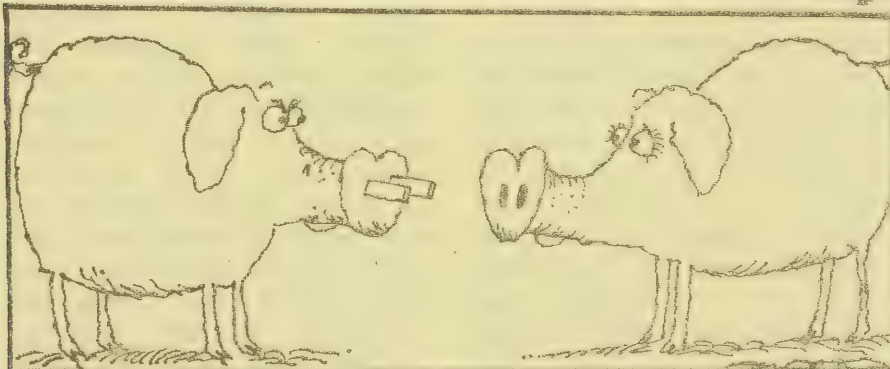

The participants, church, and concerned people have flatly denied any such activities and steam is rising from the church over the incident!

Disregarding the fact that there were a number of people that did not purchase a parcel, that would average out to $18.40 per man ($30.00 maximum allowance).

It may also be of interest to learn that during the month of December, Stores also put out a total of another $9,742.89 in regular canteen. Averaged out this is about $19.16 regular canteen for the month. OFF THE WALL would like to take this opportunity to THANK BOTH the CONS and the STAFF that had to 'bust their ass' to make up the orders totalling $19,048.34 in December. God, that is a lot of goodies.

The Struggle

A Vancouver man has wiped out his life savings attempting to free his daughter from a Mexican prison where she has been detained for more than a year after her boy friend and travelling companion were arrested for the use of counterfeit U.S. currency. She is being held as a material witness. - During the last visit the man was horrified to see that his daughters hair was falling out, she had a very serious skin rash and constantly suffered from diarrhea!

on-time performance

PRISONERS RIGHTS GROUP announced that they staged a 24-hour virgil around the B.C.P. complex in New Westminster to protest solitary confinement!

They were also attempting to draw public attention to the problems created by a reduction in T.L.A's.

inside and out

Inflation is felt harder in prison than in most places because prisoners wages are usually very low to begin with. Recent wage boosts do little to offset canteen price hikes. The price of bars and coffee are guaranteed to go up in the next month or two, other items will surely follow suit. It is very likely that the next price to make the climb is that of tobacco. Our recent raise has already been eaten up by the hikes over the past two years (since we got the last boost) that we are in a way - just breaking even now.

I would suggest that we can almost bet on a big jump in the price of WEED no later than April. For those that have not been in touch, cigarettes go for about $1.00 a pack, most places, on the street. Out there tobacco is about 65¢ so LOOK FOR A JUMP!

Decisions

A symposium held at U.B.C. in November echoed a remark that is beginning to be heard from all corners of the country. Most of the learned authorities on the penal and justice system have begun to believe that it is pointless to house non-violent prisoners in prisons. Law Professor, Keith Jobson stated that "The whole system is in drastic need of a complete overhaul." Criticism was again levelled at Mandatory because it resulted in people who had no additional charges being returned to prison for such things as "Bad Attitude". It was stated by Ezzat Fattah, chairman, of the criminology department at Simon Fraser that more than half "Of the present prison population could be released with absolutely NO DANGER to society!"

TURNUED-OFF

Across the country 207 inmates were granted T.L.A's during New Years. An almost perfect score of 206 returned to the various prisons on time. The LONE FAILURE was that of an American who is believed to have returned to his own country. For this reason the public can not even complain about his failure because he is not likely to be of any danger in Canada. Normally, citizens of other countries are not allowed T.L.A's because it is feared that they will return to their country of origin - relieving Canada of the cost of supporting an extra body!?

"Do you know 'Melancholy Baby'?"

The Unborn

HOW COME - Postage prices have recently gone up to 10¢ for regular mail. HOW COME we have to buy Gubernment envelopes at 13¢, the 3¢ being the cost of the envelopes, when we could buy stamps for 10¢ and envelopes by the package for about 1¢ each reducing the cost to 11¢ for surface mail.

It is possible to buy postage stamps in Stony Mountain and as of yet they have never been plagued by any trouble form the move but they do save 2¢ for every letter they write!

FINE DEFAULTERS FILL JAIL! More than 470 of prisoners at Bordeaux Jail in the 12 months ended Oct 1973, were there for non-payment of fines, according to a study released by the Q.H.R.L.

Of the defaulters, 64.8% had failed to pay fines of $60 or less, says the report, which was written to "Bring some light to the silence that surrounds the prisons." Who says that the law treats all men equal. Provided - you don't have any money, you will be treated as equal as the next POOR MAN!

THE LOCAL TOUCH

Chief Justice George Gale of the Supreme Court of Ontario retired on Dec. 29 after 30 years on the top. He was quoted as saying, "I'm tired. The pressure is constant. I want to quit with some of my marbles in tact. I know that I haven't got them all but I want to leave while I still have some left." He was 70 last spring.

● in the morning. ●

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands. As usual, the Dutch are about a decade ahead of Canada with regard to penal policy and penal reform. Even in relatively conservative, Holland the political parties have begun to investigate methods that would allow prisoners HOME LEAVE as it is usually referred to. The big change is that they are determining the way to implement such a program for long-term prisoners, who, formerly were not eligible. Holland will be the first country in Western Europe to acknowledge (long-term) prisoners need for such a thing, as SEX LEAVE.

The last thing

Provincial Judge Les Bewley fined Richard Herbert, who had failed to return from a T.L.A. in Vancouver, 5¢ or TWO DAYS, for being unlawfully at large. He then reached into his own pocket to pay the fine. He told reporters that he was trying to show his frustration with the present TA system. Appeals are pending. Crown!

STE. ANNE DES PIAINES, PQ. Prisoner Bill McAlister - usually associated with a Brink's Truck Robbery described life in Archambault as discarded screen-play from the movie ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST. He told the Commons Committee that "they teach us to be lazy here. We un-learn how to work. We un-learn how to love. We learn how to hate!" He states that prisoners should be given employment that pays!

WHAT PRICE HONOR?

The Northern Cheyenne had lived in the plains near the Tongue River, in what is now Montana. After Little Bighorn, the cavalry persuaded them to march south and settle with their relatives, the Southern Cheyenne at Fort Remo, Oklahoma. Nearly 3000 Cheyenne made the trek - but only after the soldiers promised the Indians that they could return if they did not like life on the new reservation. After they arrived, the soldiers took away their horses and the few weapons that the Cheyenne still possessed. There was little food; the northerners fell ill from the lack of nourishment and the heat! They protested about the food, and an army mission reported that the government was starving the Indians to death. The North Cheyenne now asked permission to return to their home. The army refused. So 2 chiefs, Dull Knife and Little Wolf moved their bands apart from the main camp and told their people to make ready to move. At night they slipped away. After three days - alternately running and riding - they reached the hills north of the Cimarron River where they hid in deep canyons to await the pursuing soldiers. There were 300 Cheyenne.

Soon Arapahoe scouts appeared and signaled for them to return. "We are going north," Little Wolf said in reply. Advancing into the canyons, the soldiers, began firing, which was foolish because the Indians were hidden on all sides. Caught in the trap, the cavalry spent the night without food or water. In the dawn, the Indians had slipped away and the soldiers retreated.

As the Cheyenne moved on - most of them on foot - word of a great Indian uprising spread. Ten thousand troops and 3000 civilians were mustered and sent galloping across the plains to catch the Cheyenne as they crossed the Platte River.

But the Cheyenne outwitted these pursuers. Forging the Platte in broad daylight, they ran on into the sand hills of Nebraska. There were never more than eighty warriors above eleven years old with the Indians, and often not more than 3 bullets per man to frighten away the hounding troops. With the old people exhausted, sick and hungry, their clothing in rags, the chiefs met and split the people into two groups. Dull Knife and a few warriors took many of the sick the old, and the children to seek refuge with their friend, the Sioux Chief, Red Cloud, at Fort Robinson. They discovered too late, that Red Cloud had been moved north. Dull Knife and his group were trapped in a blizzard and forced to surrender. At Fort Robinson, the soldiers told Dull Knife and his followers that they would have to go back south.

The Indians refused. Thereupon the soldiers manacled some warriors and locked the rest of the Indians in a barracks. They cut off food and water until the Cheyenne agreed to move. Dull Knife's group was able to smuggle a few weapons into the building in women's clothing. Making a last charge, they burst out of the building, firing as they ran into the snow. The soldiers shot down most of the fleeing warriors, and recaptured the women and children. 37 Cheyenne were trapped in the snow, and all but nine were shot by the military. But Dull Knife escaped with a handful of followers and made their way to Red Cloud on the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota.

Continuing north, Little Wolf's band eluded the soldiers, hiding in pits they dug along the Chokecherry Creek, a tributary of the Nionara. When the snows eased, Little Wolf traveled on north until he was persuaded to give up and go to Fort Keogh. There the Cheyenne sunk into despair; they scouted for the army and were ruined on whiskey.

Eventually, in a camp at Pine Ridge, Dull Knife's group was reunited with the Cheyenne re-captured at Fort Robinson. The whites finally gave the Cheyenne at Fort Keogh a reservation on the Tongue River. At last the two groups were united in their own place. The story of this great struggle is called the Cheyenne Autumn.

Communicate

NATIVE BROTHERHOOD OF INDIAN & METIS SOCIETY.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1976.

The N. B. became a Registered Organization under the Society's Act in March and was given #2415.

There were a number of socials and gatherings throughout the year with emphasis being placed on "Indian culture and Spirituality."

18 of the 20 men that registered completed the NECHI course. The 2 who failed to do so were a result of transfer to other prisons. Special thanks go out to Mr Eric Shirt, Director of NECHI Institute, and Mr. R

Bouvette, Prison Program Co-ordinator who made the course possible and had the patients to stick with it.

The N. B. went through a period of almost TOTAL collapse after the SITDOWN. Unfortunately, NECHI Inst. had to shoulder much of the blame for this, when in fact, they had absolutely nothing to do with it. It was merely a coincidence that they were to be present in the joint when it all came down.

The Brotherhood is still very concerned about the suicide rate that imprisoned Natives in Canada experience. It is a great blessing that no further deaths have been recorded since the fateful period last Spring. It is our hope that eventually, the attention gained by the PEACEFUL Demonstration may have some positive effect! It was very heartening to see so much support, independent of race, creed, or colour. It makes a fitting tribute to those that have suffered and died over the years.

Much of the credit for the recovery of the Brotherhood after the sitdown should go to Mr. John Charles and Anthony Cote. They put it all back together.

2 Native groups have been formed during the year.

INTEREST

Books

Winter is here and if you are not into either curling or hockey, it is a pretty slow time of the year. We have asked around and put together a list of some of the TOP READING available in the Joint Library. So, if you happen to be a Buff and happen to break lucky and find one or more of these books available, it is worth the time and effort to give it a go round.

1. QB VII - Leon Uris, #U2. For those of you that have not yet had the opportunity to read this monster, it is about as fine a book as you are likely to find. It is a little heavy (many pages as well as subject content) but it is worth the effort to wade through. They made a movie already and it ran to four hours. A brilliant look into the power of guilt and the price of redemption. It is set in modern England, as the name implies, Queen's Bench, Court Number 7, and deals with the case of an accused Nazi.

2. DOGS OF WAR - Forsyth, #F57. A fast moving story on the way of life of a mercenary; the man and the myth. Written in the same furious pace as Day of the Jackal, it grips the reader from the beginning to the end. In some places this work of fiction is so strikingly realistic and probable that the reader begins to believe that he is reading history and not fiction.

3. FIRST BLOOD - Cameron, Downtown. Another action filled drama filled with much violence and bloodletting. A splendid extropolation of what might happen to any one of the vets returning from Vietnam. Written less for the moral fibre than hard hitting violence it should appeal to anyone that has savage instincts.

4. THE SILVER BEARS - Erdman, #E12. A novel of manipulation of high finance in the silver market. It will definately appeal to anyone with a nose for white-collar criminal activity. There is also a lot of action for this type of book! All it takes to make a few BIG winners, and some BIG losers, is an extremely rich and corrupt business magnate, a few manipulators, a lot of pawns, and a detailed plot. Written with the same kind of scorching speed one would expect to find in a Forsyth novel.

5. BREAKFAST OF CHAMPIONS - Vonnegut, #V13. By the super-writer of underground literature of the 50's and 60's. A brilliant social condemnation of America as we know, superficially disguised as a Science Fiction. Even those that do not usually read science fiction can't afford to miss this one. Also, a MUST for all radicals and related offences that condemn the present system.

6. NO BEAST SO FIERCE - Bunker, #B54. A tale of prison and after. A tough con is released and tries to make it legal. It just does not work out the way he planned and he is pushed towards returning to crime. An ever expanding web draws him in. After the first move he becomes a pawn in a game that he is powerless to change. Good reading, with a surprise ending.

7. THE DAY OF THE JACKAL - Forsyth, #F67. If there is still a person around that has neither read the book or seen the movie, this tale is a MUST. It is the story of a professional assassin hired to kill the leader of a prominent country. It describes, in very thorough detail, the elaborate ritual that the Jackal follows in his effort to successfully complete his assignment. In true Forsyth style, there is never a dull moment.

8. THE GEMINI CONTENDERS - Ludlum, #L76. A brilliant novel that stops only after you have read the last word of the book. Suspense at it's best. The tale begins just prior to the second World War and blazes a burning trail right into the 60's. A superb tale of an international chase for extremely high stakes. Fast and fierce.

9. WINDS OF WAR - Wouk, #W37. A difficult book to handle but well worth the effort. Very Slow Starter. Poor beginning for someone that wants real action. One has to wade through roughly 200 page introduction before getting to the meat of the story. If you can handle the beginning, it is well worth your effort to finish it off. From the title you will have probably gathered it is a WWII run.

10. FLASHPOINT - Fountaine, #F80. Not of the usual germ. A highly unusual book but well worth the effort. So unusual that when you are finished you are left with the distinct possibility that this type of thing could happen. A border guard stumbled on a buried jeep that held not only a long dead body but also a sum of money that boggled his mind. Then the action begins.

PECIAL CONSTABLES UT DRAINING S.C.O.F.

A TYPICAL S.C.O.F. CASE.

Time: 3 a.m.

Place: Steamy putrid ghetto, Any Town, USA, or Canada.

Reaching under his rancid pillow for his "Thoughts of Mao," He finds ONLY a plastic bottle. Turning the label toward the dim light he reads, and hurls it out through the cardboard window. Screaming foul curses, he staggers to his tiny closet and extracts his grenade launcher. He rushes up to the roof, snarling, drooling, ready to destroy the world.

This is not right! This psychotic, insecure, momma's boy has been pushed over the brink by a simple gesture of goodwill from a local prostitute; a bottle of Scope mouthwash! What next? What can be done to halt this antisocial individual? People in this area may lose sleep and be cranky at the job site in the morning. Welfare checks left unattended, and babies left crying in their play-pens or the fire escapes.

The economy will be disrupted, the flow of life altered. Hell, the bowling alley may have to close down. All because some nut has Bad BREATH!

WHY S.C.O.F. SQUAD?

As cities grow larger and more complex, psychological problems that cannot be equated to the farmer on the tractor grow alongside. Police units found it quite difficult to deal efficiently in situations such as the one mentioned above! Patrolman dispatched to halt the "grenade maniac", would often react with statements like, "get your mamma to do it, sarge," or something similar.

The main complaint was about overtime, and having to eat local food, whereby upsetting the ecological balance of the stomach. Clearly, a special type of personnel was needed; men, who would not balk at overtime, who had cast iron stomachs, and who came from backgrounds that would allow them to integrate into the district like chameleons (to blend into the local jungle). Since G.I. Joe was in Vietnam, Jungle Jim was dead, and Tarzan was selling cars in Burbank, S.C.O.F. teams were established in all major urban areas. The criterion (as mentioned above) was stiff: and since most single men were considered to be either "subversive" or homosexuals, or both, only candidates who proved themselves incompatible with Men, Women, or beast were considered.

The average team consisted of five men. Four are "action, strike, and scoff" (a.s.s.) members, and one co-ordinator who directs the administrative end of the business; such as what type of relish the team will use on hot-dogs, served en-route to the strike area. This man is usually unarmed, except for his mouth and the micro-wave oven strapped to his back!

63 SALUTE TO:

BULDOZER Age: 49
Height: 6' 4" Weight: 265

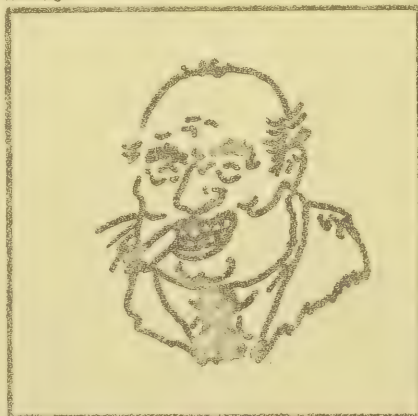

Oldest member of the tactical unit, an considered, 'hard-boiled' by the other members. Although extremely shy "Cauliflower McPug" can outeat his teammates. His "heavy support" system virtually neutralizes all "hot-dog stands, pizzavias and delicatessens" in an assault area. Favorite foods include, frozen pop-tarts, deep fried ice cream, and dingle berries, when in season. BULDOZER can't relate to the newer trends in eating, sticking to the traditional preparations. "Can you see me eatin toidy galloons of yogurt with an anti-tank gun in my hands, pal? Considers John Wayne, to be a "Faggot" who sold us down the river many years ago. Prefers para-military garb and his head doubles as a battering ram for locked candy-stores, the latter being at VINO'S soul command.

Favorite Joke: The hippy, the cement sandals, and the East River.

SAMMY Age: 33
Height: 5' 2" Weight: 300

When the sun rises, so does this Jolly Irishman. His battle cry is "Up a long ladder and down a short rope, the hell with King Billy, and God Bless the Pope: if that don't do, we'll tear him in two, and send him to hell with his red, white, and blue!" A skilled administrator, Sammy is the cook at the annual "Policeman's Outdoor Blurb Fry!" As for his duties on the S.C.O.F. Squad, Sammy is guarded, saying, "The bodies go in the IN basket, and the FOOD goes IN THE STOMACH!" Well put Sammy. Fact is, Sammy went to bed of late as Irishman and woke up a Jew. Pee-lev me Morris, it wasn't easy! But things are "Kosher for passover and would you pass the halva you snerd or get out of my cab!" "I gota maka livin too you know!"

Favorite Joke: The Irishman, the Italian, and the Jew who invent X-ray glasses.

JACKSON Age: 28
Height: 5' 10" Weight: 175

Funky, hip, and slick; are the words usually used to describe Jackson. He calls BULDOZER a hunky, honky, WARTHOG and gets away with it. During an operation in Harlem, Jackson "smashed down a statute of Muhammad Ali, & ate sixty pounds of "bad-ass grits." A fervent student of Christy Brown, Jackson hates everybody: and says so. "man, those Heebz went to Entebbe and didn't even get it on in the airport cafeteria man!" If we would have been there, Big Daddy would have still been frying Soul Burgers! A karate expert: Jackson is not discriminatory about "Kickin ass." "That's right, I kick ass, but I ain't goin' to kiss it!" He likes cheap jokes, "Hippos defecating," and warning shots in the back of the Suspect's head.

Favorite Joke: The dead Honky and the earthworm!

SPECIAL CONSTABLES OUT FORAGING

LOGOS Age: 32
Height: 6' 0" Weight: 185

VINO Age: 38
Height: 5' 5" Weight: 180

Keen of mind and looks. LOGOS is the leader of SCOF in all departments. He prefers a business suit and bow-tie when on duty, to better enable him to talk local merchants out of suicide, after VINO and BULL-DOZER "De-activate" the foodstuffs. Wanted to be a policeman so bad as a kid he jumped off of a roof to "flatten his feet". LOGOS was voted most likely kid "TO GO ELECTRICAL" in High School and he had lived up to these expectations. He was raised by a computer (His parents ran away to a circus), he dislikes solid foods, preferring a liquid diet. This has come in handy as he has been forced to swallow the evidence on occasion.

But, he has been known to consume many pounds of chocolate coated smelts, all, while directing his men on neutralizing local fish-hatcheries. LOGOS' only drawback is "passing gas while in the bathtub."

Solid in stature and light in heart "Bambino Vincenzo" is resident wit. "Oh Mama Mia, willa ya looka ata thema Spaghetti-o's!" A man who can smile for the cameras, pinch a fanny, and work his weapon at the same time; VINO once ate over ten pounds of chocolate covered hammertoes while subduing alithering alligators in a high school urinal. His only regret in life is the fact that his wife took too long to die, of "heart-break psoriasis and unsightly warts." "Hey Pisano, she hadda a fac ajusta lika caters mittas, huh?" Vinny loves junk foods, and will consume patato chips, gum, licorice, etc, at will. Strangely enough, he has never been known to eat a mellow muffin.

Favorite Joke: The traveling salesman, the ugly witch, and the corn on the cob.

THE

We declare: That we shall do our best to destroy salmonella and botchulism. We shall do our utmost to neutralize all foodstuffs in a one mile radius of any given crime.

We shall eat to our hearts content, and if any crime happens to be solved in the process - GROOVY!"

The great Outdoors has not been entirely up to par this year. There was a very slow start because the winter was slow in setting in. After that, other confusions and slow-downs did their part to further, delay the proceedings!

There have not been enough games played on "B" League to justify statistics. "A" has enough but unfortunately, they were not compiled in time to be able to present them in this issue. However, next time we plan to carry the complete breakdown of what has happened up to this time. There has been a lot of play in the last couple of weeks.

After the Fall

For anyone that has to be locked in prison, the recent fire at Stratford, Ont starts cold chills running up and down the spine. We are all very aware of the long delays encountered in getting the cells unlocked even in cases of emergency! The inquest was opened & postponed until later in February but already some reports have begun to filter out. First, although screams for help were heard ten minutes prior, prison staff made no moves, not even to investigate, until the Fire Detector sounded the alarm 10 minutes later. Second, the Fire Dept was still not called for at least another 10 minutes after that, while staff attempted to contain the fire themselves. It was also learnt that there was a set of back stairs but that no one tried to use them and that the Fire Department was not told of their existence.

Five lives were lost! But little will be done. This type of accident is much more likely to happen in provincial jails as there is little or no regard for safety - but unlike most of the victims on the street - these men saw that they were about to be burnt to death, and there was not a damn thing they could do to help themselves!

OUTSIDE

HOT TIP - If you happen to work on the staff, and just stumble on the opportunity for a one-way escort tour to take a prisoner either to Ontario or Winnipeg, it is possible to pick up a real good deal. Used cars range from 100 to 200% less in both centres. And it is perfectly legal, up to 5 times a year.

BIG BLITZ

There were 2 Super-duper Bingos held over the holidays. One on the 25th. & the other on the 1st. Some fine prizes too! Sweaters, photo albums, games, pens, and the usual smokes, pop, and cigars. We thank Harry Junior for being Caller!

SCOREBOARD

SCHOOL NEWS. In 1976 there were 2 University classes. Sociology 101 had 12 enrolled with 5 completing. It was handled by Prof. Joe Graumans from Saskatoon. English 102 has 15 registered with 8 completions. The professor was T. Bones also from the University of Sask., Saskatoon. This year also saw 10 complete a High School out of 21.

Two other University classes began just after the new year - Anthropology 101 and History 101. The school is looking at the possibility of bringing in another typing class as it was extremely successful the last time that it was offered! At present there is a waiting list for those wishing to do standard upgrading. There is also a possibility of some additional Non-Credit courses during the coming year.

WATCHING ONE OF THE BOYS

OH MY GOD! - Watch what is going to happen to the coffee prices during the next year.

Prices are expected to rise by about $1.00 or more for ground coffee. This would mean that instant coffee will also jump in cost. By the end of 1977 Instant will likely be going for more than $7.00 a pound at wholesale. This means we should expect to see canteen coffee raise by no less than $.75 per half pound and possibly more?

All the guys that are expecting to be here for more than the next year would do well to start to invest in coffee futures now! The price is expected to start to drop again in mid-1978! Prices have already jumped 30¢ (canteen) in January.

Would you believe that the other day, a member of the staff from the local radio station (CKBI) was escorted out to out gym to record some "real" noise. It looked promising until a undisclosed party made off with the taperecorder. It was returned some time after as it had all been a joke.

Five Per Cent Solution

One good present that a deal between Santa and Security managed was a large amnesty from seg for xmas. More than 10 guys were paroled so that they could be released before Christmas. Not all bad news.

Read this and cry.

Down South, Yankee Land Way they got a law known as 'entrapment'. On the book it means that a person can not be found guilty of a crime if he can establish that the investigating officer lead him into the crime. This most readily applies to dope cases. Up in this 'fair' land, where the accussed HAS NO RIGHTS AT ALL(!) there is no such law.

There is a lot of dudes in this joint serving some pretty stiff sentences for being nice guys. Now this may be a little hard for a street reader to buy, after all, the age-old cry of "I was framed" has been heard all to often for anyone to really take it serious any more. However, picture this scene. You are sitting in a bar, more or less minding your own business! You are grooving on the action and being fairly cool. Along comes this dude, with an old friend of yours just begging for a little dope action. Normally you light up once in a while, that is smoke some hash, but you have never really been into the dope scene. You sure as hell don't peddle hard-stuff.

This dude says his speal, he is in a bad way and has to score. You are just a run-of-the-mill, easy to get along with thief but you have been sitting in the bar for a good number of months so you know what type of action is usually coming down. But you don't want anything to do with dope and you tell the guy so. He lays a lot of rap on you but finally splits.

A few days later he is back with an even more desperate line. You still tell him to take a hike. This dude shows up from time to time always trying to get you to turn him on to a contact. Finally, out of desperation you decide to send him to someone that you know in the business. After all, an old buddy of yours vouched for the guy! You set him up with someone to make a score. The little yellow badge flashes, and all the lawyers in the world don't help much when the JUDGE says 8 YEARS for trafficking in narcotics!

"Ooooh! Ring around the collar."

Pretty heavy time for just helping a guy (buyer) find a seller, but you are IT baby. So up to the pen you go, sore as hell and swearing vengeance on the world! Up at the joint you hear that your "good-old-buddy" the one that led THIS MAN to YOU, had been pinched in the Bay for boosting, a petty beef for starts, but he had made a deal with the MAN (police) to set up some really BIGGIES to drop the shop-lifting charge!

After six-solid in a max, remember that those that TRAFFIC in HORSE are serious criminals and always wind up in maximum security, you manage to SPRING. You just did six solid and the worst 'crime' you had ever been in on was when a couple of you got together and kicked into a hardware store, on the corner. You are bitter, you are MAD! You are not really mad, you are FURIOUS: so you buy a BIG GUN and someone is in for a BAD GO if you are rubbed wrong.

A pretty hairy story! The only trouble is that it "happens at least 3 or 4 times a week in Canada!" At least 3 or 4 times but may be a whole lot more! Just doesn't seem fair! But it is a fact of life! It does seem like a sure-fire way to make a lot of mean really BAD-ASS criminals! Yet a lot of years have passed and Canada has made no effort to pass laws that may protect the accused from being so used. In fact, the accused has NO RIGHTS in this country what-so-ever! He is not even entitled to a phone call if they don't feel like giving him one!

Now, good-old-citizen will argue that it makes it possible for the Police to do their jobs better. This is a crock of..... If it were true, then we would expect that the Canadian COPPERS must do their job a whole lot better than their southern counter-parts. Yet proof is not in the making because the Americans lock up just as many crooks as do the Canadians.

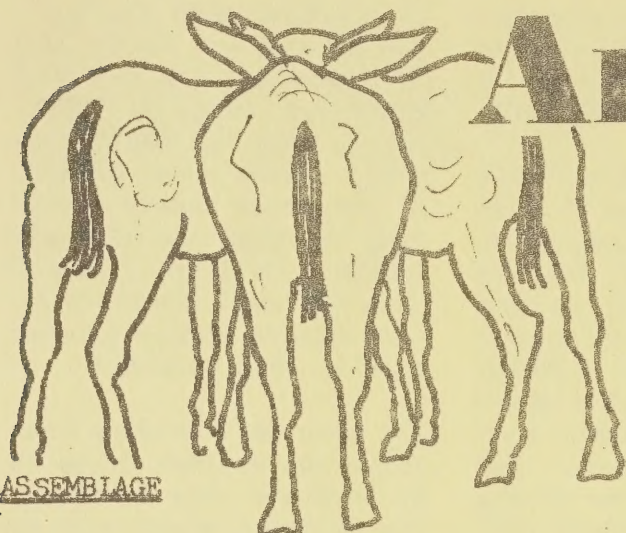

The one big difference between the two countries is that the Americans are not as likely to lock up innocent people as are Canadians. The police may have to work a little harder, but they do catch them. It would seem that that is why they get paid! It is time for this country to start to make some moves to protect the innocent! However, the present trend seems to indicate that the exact opposite plan is rolling into effect. The now Dead Peace and Security Bill, may it keep the DEVIL company, was a prime example of the trend toward stripping the populace of their RIGHTS. Oh dear, I forgot that the word RIGHTS is almost always seen as a swear word in this country!

The best way to reduce violence and violent crime is to protect the innocent! One of the easiest ways to protect the innocent is to treat the guilty fairly! This may seem to be a contradiction - but a closer look, shows that it is inherently logical. Babies are not born with fangs and claws looking for some one to kill. People have to be taught to be vicious! People have to be taught to hate! One of the best teachers of vileness, corruption, and violence IS the present VILE, CORRUPT, and VIOLENT SYSTEM that we live in!
